Extremely Low Levels in Red Cross Blood Banks

Severe snow and ice storms across the Great Lakes Blood Services Region have caused a surprising number of blood drive cancellations and further unbalanced the already fragile supply of lifesaving blood. In recent days, cancellations in the Great Lakes Region have resulted in the loss of more than 442 expected blood donations. Region-wide, 12 blood drives across the 65-county coverage area were forced to cancel this week. The loss of donations can significantly affect the blood supply during the winter season, a time when donations are typically low.

"Hundreds of Michigan hospital patients need blood every day," says Sharon Jaksa, CEO of the Great Lakes Blood Services Region of the American Red Cross. "Sometimes we have to make an extra effort to keep the blood supply sufficient. With the recent weather conditions and blood drive cancellations, we ask donors to make an extra effort to donate blood to help meet the needs of those patients."

The month of March is American Red Cross Month, and a great way to show your support and help save lives is through the gift of blood donation. The winter season can be a very difficult time to collect enough blood to meet the needs of patients. To encourage more donors to give, the American Red Cross is collaborating with Meijer. Each month of 2011, everyone who comes to donate blood through the Great Lakes Region will have the opportunity to win a $250 Meijer gift card. For the month of March and American Red Cross Month, everyone who comes to donate blood Region-wide will receive a Best Buy coupon created specifically for our donors.
